LABOR DAY CELEBRATION

Event Promises to Surpass All Previous Events

The Labor Day celebration this year promises to be an important event. No pains have been spared in the procuring of a program, and with favorable weather the day should be a complete success.

The parade, forming at 9:30 o'clock, on east Jasper, will have the following units in line, head-carriers, lanterns, tinners, cigar-makers, plumbers, barbers, bricklayers, and plasterers, carpenters, and likely the recently organized unions of tailors, teamsters and blacksmiths. It is expected that the mayor and aldermen will take part. This is to be decided at tonight's council meeting.

Strathcona and Edmonton will play lacrosse in the morning and Calgary and Edmonton play baseball in the afternoon. This will give the public an opportunity to see these events under favorable circumstances.

The Trades Council has secured Mr. John A. Flett, Canadian organizer, to deliver an address.

The prizes for the various events are on exhibit in Kelly & Moore's window.

SALARIES ARE TOO SMALL

Ard Ontario Teachers Flock to the West

(Bulletin Special)

Toronto, Aug. 30.—Dr. John Seith, superintendent of education, speaking today of the scarcity of school teachers said the chief cause was the insufficient financial inducements offered to teachers. They were not paid any higher salaries than unskilled labor obtained for work in the cities. Consequently a good many teachers had gone to the west where better salaries were paid.

FARMERS FAVOR THE STATIONS

Five Stations Already Established in the Province for Fattening Fowl

Mr. A. W. Foley, of the department of agriculture, returned last night from a trip along the C. & E. in connection with the establishment of the government co-operative fattening stations. Stations have been established at Wetaskiwin, Lacombe, Red Deer and Innisfail.

Mr. Foley says he found business men, farmers and newspaper men all very enthusiastic over the work undertaken by the department. The original intention was to fatten about 300 chickens at each of the stations, but as many as 1,500 were offered at the Red Deer station, so that the idea has taken a strong hold of the poultry raisers.

Mr. Foley is busy completing arrangements to have the work commence the second week in September and a large order has been placed with a local firm for the manufacture of crates for the chickens.

A capable local man will be placed in charge. The plan of operation and conditions upon which the stations will be conducted, are given below:

1—All poultry must be delivered alive and free of charge at the fattening stations at such times as may be required by the department of agriculture.

2—Only spring chickens will be accepted unless arrangements have been made for fowl.

3—All chickens must weigh at least 3½ to 4 pounds each.

4—In no case will sick birds, crippled, deformed, sick or diseased birds be accepted, and the operator in charge of a fattening station may refuse to accept any birds which, in his opinion, are unsuitable for fattening purposes.

5—The crop of all birds must be empty when received at the station and before being weighed. (This is most easily attained by cooping the birds the evening previous to delivery.)

6—All birds will be weighed alive on delivery at the station and the seller given credit for the total weight.

7—The department of agriculture will pay in advance eight cents per pound live weight for chicken, and six cents for fowl upon receipt of an advice from the operator of the fattening station.

8—The department of agriculture agrees to provide suitable accommodation and efficient management for such co-operative poultry fattening stations as may be established and to properly crate and fatten the birds accepted from patrons, and to market the same to the best advantage.

9—The department of agriculture agrees to keep an account of all revenue received from the sale of poultry and after deducting the amount of the original advance, and the actual cost of fattening and marketing to return the balance at the close of the season to the patrons in proportion to the weight of poultry received from each.

DR. SAUNDERS IN THE CITY

Director of Experimental Farms Surprised at the Progress Since His Last Visit

Dr. William Saunders, director of the Experimental Farms, is in the city today. It is three years since Dr. Saunders visited Edmonton and to the Bulletin today he said he hardly knew the city, such marvelous progress had been made.

Dr. Saunders has been in the west in connection with the experimental farms recently established by the Federal Department of Agriculture, and also visited the fair at New Westminster. He leaves tomorrow morning over the C.N.R. for Vegreville and intends to make several excursions to the surrounding country to study the agricultural possibilities of his famous district. He intends to visit the principal towns along the line and make similar excursions into the surrounding districts. The west has never had a more intelligent or persistent advertisement than what Dr. Saunders has given it in his writings and addresses.

In company with Mr. Thos. Daly and Jas. Porter Dr. Saunders inspected the exhibit these gentlemen are preparing for the Halifax exhibition, and expressed himself as highly pleased with the excellence of the samples and their preparation.

The samples of Preston wheat caught the attention of Dr. Saunders. He first originated this variety of wheat in 1887 by crossing Red Fife with Ladoga. In 1887 there was but one kernel of this variety in the possession of the experimenter. He says that from experiments conducted in England and at Ottawa it has been shown that in flour the quality of the Preston is as good as the Red Fife wheat. The English experimenters figured it 3-4 cent a bushel cheaper than Red Fife. He says it is a splendid crop and in every way a most satisfactory variety for this country.

Dr. Saunders said that one of the things he noticed universal throughout the west this year was the fact that almost every ear of wheat examined had from two to three sterile spikelets at the base. He could not explain it. Mr. Porter showed him a sample of some cereal that has caused considerable interest in this country, notably

Grand Trunk Packer who Visited the New Banff in Yellowhead Believes They are all Right

(Bulletin Special)

Alex. McCortlar, a packer, who has been working all summer on the Grand Trunk Pacific survey, but who is now at White Horse Lake, has visited the hot springs in the Yellowhead pass and says they are all right. McCortlar, by the way, is a full-blooded Indian, and claims to be a nephew of Sitting Bull, the famous old war chief of the Sioux. He talked with the Indians he met out Yellowhead way about the springs, and found out that they had known of their existence for generations back, having been in the habit for many years of taking their sick people up there. McCortlar then visited the springs to see for himself. He found one spring moderately warm, possibly 80 or 90, another one about the same temperature as the Banff springs, probably about 115 and the third one boiling, or at least so hot that he could not hold his finger in it while he counted 10.

McCortlar says the springs lie south of the proposed route of the Grand Trunk Pacific, but will be accessible by wagon road when the railway is built. McCortlar heard nothing of the race for the springs that was reported in the newspapers, although he is not prepared to say that it did not occur.

around Cardston where the people called it eye. Dr. Saunders says it is a Potomac wheat (Triticum Potomacum) and is extensively grown in Algeria, north Africa, but is a very poor variety and not worth cultivating. The large size of the kernel causes some to think they have a regular bonanza.

Dr. Saunders said he noticed as he travelled northward on the C. & E. the crops showed to have a greater length of straw and greater stand.

LARGE INCREASE IN ATTENDANCE

One Hundred and Fifty More Pupils Than at the Close of Last Term

Superintendent McCaig has finished the task of assigning the various teachers to their respective departments.

At Queen's avenue the following is the staff:

C. H. Russell, B.A., principal, Standard V.; Miss K. Chegwinn, Standard IV.; Miss McKee, Standard III.; Miss Brown, Standard II.; Miss McKinnon, Pt. II.; Miss Livingston, East II.; Miss Sutherland, Sr. Pt. I., primary; Miss Barker, Sr. Pt. I., primary; Miss Martin, Jr. Pt. I., primary, department.

At MacKay avenue—W. Scott, B. A. principal, Standard V.; Miss McKee, Standard IV.; Miss Evans, Standard III.; Miss Campbell, Standard II.; Miss Boyle, Standard II.; Miss Graham, Pt. II.; Miss McCauley, Sr. Pt. I.; Miss Collier, Jr. Pt. I.

Syndicate avenue—Miss E. E. Standard III.; Miss Tyner, Standard II.; Miss Swarbrick, Pt. II.; Miss Brown, Pt. I.

No. wood—Miss Danard, Standard III and II; Miss McNeil, Pt. I. and II. Mr. Hutton continues in his former position as instructor in physical culture and art work.

The new teachers that have been added to the staff are Miss Brown, Wetaskiwin; Miss Burger, Wetaskiwin; Miss Tyner, Prescott, Ont.; Miss McNeil, Lebus; Miss Martin, Cardston.

Concerning the admission of pupils for the first time, Sup't. McCaig says this board will follow the rule already in practice of admitting them only at the beginning of the fall, winter and spring terms. Pupils will not be admitted to the primary department after next Tuesday, September 4th.

There have been approximately one hundred and fifty new pupils admitted to the city schools this week, over the number enrolled at the close of last term. The number will be largely increased after harvesting operations are completed. The number already enrolled make an average of forty pupils per teacher, and there are in the United States and Canada than ever before. Their operations extend from British Columbia to Manitoba, but there are more along the mountain border than any other part of the infected territory. Horses are stolen from Canada and driven into the United States and from the United States to sell in Canada. The thieves are well organized and present a difficult problem for the officers to handle. A rigid inspection has been adopted, and the destination of every horse brought into Canada is registered. In this way it is hoped to check the thieves.

De spite the new accommodation just furnished in Syndicate avenue school, the demand for school room has not been lessened. The Norwood school district is rapidly increasing in school population. There are at present 100 pupils in the two rooms of the Norwood school; this will necessitate relief very soon.

The number admitted to the high school is larger than in any previous year. Owing to the large number of graduates in the upper standards, many of whom have gone to the provincial normal school, the higher standards are not so well filled, but the evidence of a larger interest in the high school from the increased number of public school graduates who are entering on the work of Standard VI.

LABORERS SCARED

Regina, Aug. 31.—Premier Scott, who returned to the city from St. Paul says that from many parts of Saskatchewan complaints continue to come of scarcity of workmen.

"Whether the wheat crop aggregated 125,000,000 bushels, 100,000,000 bushels or only 90,000,000 bushels," says Mr. Scott, one very certain fact is that there are too few men available to properly harvest it. There is work in this province at present for several thousand more men than the cheap rates offered in the east and the Old Country have induced to come. My own department in roads and bridges work throughout the province is greatly hampered by scarcity of men and I am told contractors on railway construction work all over the west are being badly retarded from the same cause."

LACK OF MEN DELAYS THE C.N.R.

Winnipeg, Aug. 29.—If it is at all possible for us to secure men to do the work we will rush the construction of the Brandon-Regina main line into Regina this fall and haul out grain this year," was the statement made by Mr. William Mackenzie, president of the Canadian Northern, since his return to Winnipeg from the west. But while making this statement Mr. Mackenzie did not hold out very strong hopes of accomplishing the feat inasmuch as the road is meeting with the greatest difficulty in securing men for construction work. The C. N. R. requires men for work on their Battleford extension and on the road to the Pass.

Mr. Mackenzie instanced one aspect of the labor problem by stating how the company after securing about 100 men sent them on to Battleford, but by the time the party reached his destination its numbers had dwindled down to about half a dozen men. The farmers along the line had secured the others to work on their farms.

It can be said, however, with the most positive assurance that the C. N. R. management are extremely anxious to get into Regina from the south this year. If this cannot be accomplished then they will get there very shortly after spring opens next year. Until this line is built they cannot reap the full benefit of the acquisition of the Qu'Appelle, Long Lake and Saskatchewan railway.

HORSE THIEVES NUMEROUS

Speaking in Medicine Hat Sergeant Wilson of the R.N.W.M.P., says more expert horse thieves are now operating along the boundary between the United States and Canada than ever before. Their operations extend from British Columbia to Manitoba, but there are more along the mountain border than any other part of the infected territory. Horses are stolen from Canada and driven into the United States and from the United States to sell in Canada. The thieves are well organized and present a difficult problem for the officers to handle. A rigid inspection has been adopted, and the destination of every horse brought into Canada is registered. In this way it is hoped to check the thieves.

USING BIG GRADERS

Battleford Aug. 29.—In spite of the many difficulties that have to be contended with, the work of construction on the Grand Trunk Pacific grade between Saskatoon and Edifice is being rapidly pushed forward. At present there are seven camp have fifty teams to each outfit just now are located fifty miles from Battleford. Messrs. Foley Bros. & Larson, at Battleford Junction Junction camp have fifty teams to of their camps and also a grader which requires twelve pairs of horses to draw it. These graders turn out no less than 1,500 yards of soil per day, which is reckoned splendid work. It is confidently expected that camp 1 will reach the Vermilion Sand Hills about the last of October. After all the camps will concentrate at the Vermilion Sand Hills as winter headquarters, where about 150 miles of the grade will have been covered. The G.T.P. are constructing a ten-foot roadbed which is two feet wider than the C.P.R.

KEEP DOWN THE RATE

The city council had apparently no option in dealing with the assessment. The law did not allow them to reduce it and time would not permit them to reject it holas bolus and have a new assessment made. The council might of course have adopted Ald. Picard's radical suggestion and reduced the assessment regardless of the chapter, but the course would have been dangerous in itself and still more dangerous as a precedent.

The evils which might arise from a high assessment may be largely avoided if the aldermen keep a close eye on the civic expenditures. The council should keep in mind during the next year that while they have an assessment of $17,000,000 from which to draw revenue as compared to an assessment of $6,000,000 last year, that the ability of the citizens to pay taxes has not increased in the ratio of 6 to 17 and that the higher assessment is endurable only if the rate charged be correspondingly decreased. Assuming the figures to be approximately correct the present assessment is nearly three times that of last year. If the expenditure remains the same it will require therefore a rate only about one third that of last year. That the expenditure can be kept the same is probably impossible, but this should be the ideal kept in view.

If this course is pursued, the high assessment will work no hardship on the ratepayers and its damage to our reputation abroad may be minimized. That the assessment has tripled in a year we may not be able to deny, but we can sufficiently nullify the consequences of the admission if we can reply that our rate of taxation has diminished as rapidly as the assessment has grown.

WATER AND SEWER SERVICE

The city council are re-advertising the bylaw requiring the installation of water and sewer services in residences along streets supplied with water and sewer mains. The bylaw was passed more than a year ago and came into effect on June 1st, 1935. Its provisions were not complied with as generally as desirable and a clause is now attached providing that where such services are not installed by the proprietors, the city may do the work and assess the cost against the property.

This is taken as a healthy sign that the civic authorities intend to insist more strongly than heretofore on the installation of sewer and water services throughout the residential portions of the city. The alternative power taken by the city should be effective in cases where owners neglect to install services or decline to do so purely through selfishness, but it is a power which must be exercised with discretion. The administration of the bylaw should be co-operative rather than coercive. The more congested portions of the city are the districts in which for sanitary reasons it is most desirable that sewer and water services be installed. The greater portion of the residents of such districts are laboring men and men of limited means. Many of them are endeavoring to pay for homes, while many more are occupying houses for which high rents are charged. Many of both these classes find their burdens heavy and the additional expense of installing services or of paying the higher rent demanded by reason of such services would mean an addition to these burdens which would be very severely felt. While the public health should not be endangered to avoid inconveniencing the individual, neither should the individual be subjected to unnecessary hardship through the harsh enforcement of a measure designed to protect the public health.

The clause giving the city power to install services where owners neglect or decline to do so might have been broadened to include the case of owners who are not at present financially able to do so and there should be no objection to the clause being so interpreted when necessary by the council. True, the owner who is unable to install a service may have it installed by the city by simply disregarding the notice from the city engineer. But to do so is to place such citizen in the light of neglecting the law when he may really desire to fulfill the law but be unable to do so. It is not fair that such aspersion should be cast upon him.

If the clause is interpreted in this broader manner and the cost of services installed by the city distributed over a reasonably long term of years the districts which most need their service could be readily supplied and that with the minimum of expense to the residents least able to bear the burden.

G. T. P. SURVEYORS IN CALGARY
Calgary, Aug. 29.—A party of Grand Trunk surveyors were just over the hill from Calgary last week, within three miles of the city. They were camped at Nose Hill on Monday last and left on Friday.

The party was directed by M. S. Cox, chief surveyor.

Three different surveys were made. The first passed through Mr. Guardoff's ranch going north.

The second passed through Murray's ranch going in the same direction.

A third survey was made in an easterly direction.

From these directions it would seem that the road will enter the city from the east and it was rumored by those on the survey that the terminal would be in the vicinity of Stead's slaughter house.

A VERY GRAVE OFFENCE
A Trade Mark Which is Infringed by Many Dealers.

(From Montreal Gazette, Aug. 15, 1936)
The despatch from London, Eng., telling of the tailor who was sent to jail by a police magistrate for misrepresenting some tweed and infringing the Trade Mark Act, brings home the criminal conduct of retailers who repeatedly deceive their customers. In this case it was found out that the tailor was advertising suits made to order from Harris tweed. He did not have a yard of Harris tweed in his store.

In Canada some dealers are lax in their morals in this respect. The Slater Shoe, which is a shining mark in the commercial world, is perhaps the favorite choice of the infringer. The Slater Shoe Company receive letters nearly every day from people who say they bought Slater shoes from dealers who never had a Slater shoe in their store. The deceived customer wants a new pair of Slater shoes for their worthless imitations. One can conceive their indignation at the deception practiced upon them. All sorts of subterfuges are practiced.

Some dealers sure y do not appreciate the gravity of the offense. The real Slater Shoe has the late late trade mark plainly marked upon each pair. The good nature of the company is lax to its limit when some of these letters are received from the victims of substitutes and imitations.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

Big League Ball

Cowpunchers Come Very Close To Blanking Caps on Home Grounds
—Shut-out Averted in the Ninth.

BALL GAME TODAY.

The ball game today commences at 3.30 instead of 5.30 as advertised heretofore. The pitchers will be Howard for Edmonton, and Kinnear for Calgary. This afternoon's game promises to be strictly first class.

The Cowpunchers came so close to blanking the Caps in the first of the series yesterday that Wild Bill Setley trembled with agitation and charged the umpire with grand larceny at home and abroad.

The Cowpunchers played right up on their toes all through the piece, with plenty of hair-trigger work to keep the bleachers going, while Edmonton moved with the deliberation of a government pack train.

Crist outpitched Yeazell and the Calgarians won on their merits. Outside of a lightning play by Rochon in the fourth, when he snatched a kinkey liner from its wayward course, and a beautiful one-hand running catch by Adams in the ninth, there was very little spectacular work in the day's performance.

White made a very pretty play in the fifth, for which he was compelled to doff his hat. Rochon and McInnis made the only thoroughly childish play of the day, in the fourth, when Rochon invaded right field to snatch a fly, and then while the action of gravity and the effluxion of time were conspiring to bring the leather-covered sphere to terra firma, Monsieur Rochon and McInnis did the Alphonse and Gaston act, being in the middle of the third bow when the ball dropped with a dull thud.

It was one minute and forty-five seconds later that Rochon made his spectacular play, saving his reputation. In 15 seconds more the fans would have had it buried behind the barn, face down.

Nevertheless it was good ball from turn loose to curtain, and not much improvement on it will be found in any class B league in America.

The weather was fine, the day fair and the attendance scattering to normal. Garretson and Donnelly umpired, and he it said here, there was little cause for complaint about their decisions. They acted as wise and upright judges. Yeazell took the slab for the Caps but for some reason (allegedly financial) Manager Benjamin changed the dope sheet at the last moment and put in Crist instead of Kinnear. This makes the pitching talent for this afternoon Howard and Kinnear, which constitutes a cinch for the home team.

Calgary took the willow first and Rochon managed to get hit by the pitcher, making the first to touch the initial sock, but it availed him nothing, as he did there.

Sullivan singled in the second half and also reached the No. 1 sack but expired there shortly afterward.

Act II was one, two, three; one, two, three, with nothing doing.

It was in the third that Edmonton's troubles began. Watson was the first victim, and he went down nice, pitcher to first. Then Crist astonished the natives by meeting it at the seam and acquiring a position of eminence on the first sack. Donovan came next and met it on the seam for a single, advancing Crist to third, which provoked the locals into a little pink pong business and when the smoke cleared away Donovan had gained second. Westerberg followed with a single which scored Crist and Rochon, amid the plaudits of the unprejudiced fanatics. Rochon fanned and Moyné flew to right, retreating the side. Two runs.

Edmonton followed by going out one, two, three and then in the fourth the Calgarians had them on the anxious seat again. Ford went out, pitcher to first. Reeves landed on Yeazell for a double and McInnis gained first on Sullivan's error. With first and second covered, Watson went out on an infield pop and Crist flew to centre, letting the Caps out of the hole.

It was in the last of the fourth that Edmonton had a momentary chance, presented by Rochon, and then confiscated by him. Adams came up first and made as pretty a two-sacker as has been seen on the grounds. Sullivan popped back of first, and Rochon and McInnis pulled off their "you first, Gaston," business, on which Adams reached third and Sullivan pranced to second unmolested. With nobody down it looked easy when Hodge came up and laced out a buck-jumping liner. Just how Rochon connected he probably does not know himself, but he got it in time to cut Hodge off at first and Adams, who tried to take advantage of the situation and reach the rubber, was surrounded and done to death. White flew to centre, retreating the side.

In the fifth and sixth there was nothing doing. In the seventh Calgary scored their third run. Crist hit, Donovan flew to left, Westerberg dribbled and got first on fielder's choice, Crist going out at second. Westerberg stole second and came in on a two-base hit by Rochon. Mayne retired the side with a fly.

Again in the eighth Calgary scored, making their fourth run. Ford hit, Reeves sacrificed and advanced him one. McInnis hit for a single, which he tried to stretch into a double but got caught in the act, Ford scoring on the play.

With the score four to zero against them and a shut out in plain sight the Caps pulled together in the ninth and saved the kaisomine. It was Gleason who came up and he reached the sack on a very bad throw by Westerberg. Adams reached his sack on account of slow fielding by Crist. Sullivan fanned. Hodge got hit by pitcher and should have filled the sacks, but Garretson would not allow it, and he also disturbed the ozone on three successive occasions and took a seat. The shutout was staring them right in the face when White soaked it for two sacks and Gleason scored. Edmonton enthusiasm flickered for a moment even then, but Wild Bill retired the side a moment later on an infield dribble.

Toronto Ball Team Figuring on a Trip to Alberta This Fall

Following the announcement that the Maroons are to tour the west in search of easy laurels, comes the news that Toronto has some idea of trying the same thing early in September.

Toronto has been engaged all summer in a wild struggle for the cellar championship and now they seem to have it cinched. As the Toronto management would like to find something they could beat they are figuring on a trip abroad. The following from the Toronto News explains the case:

"The baseball team at Calgary, Alberta, is anxious to make a tour of Eastern Canada, and have asked the Toronto ball club for a game with the Eastern league team here on some open date in the near future. It is not yet known whether the game will be played, as President McCaffrey and Manager Barrow are considering the advisability of taking the entire team on a tour of Manitoba and the far west as soon as the season is closed, providing that suitable dates can be arranged with western teams."

Four Husky Men

Jack Downs Has a Contract This Evening to Save His Hundred
Plunks

The personnel of the wrestling quartette which will meet Jack Downs tonight in the Tiltle rink and endeavor to get that $100 away from him, is out. Downs certainly has a contract ahead of him.

The men are Henry Blatchford, "Watty" Watson, Pat McClinchy and Charlie Suter.

Blatchford is already well known to the Edmonton Public and no one who has seen him wrestle will ever admit that he is easy. Last winter he gave Jack Curran the time of his life and been one of the prime actors in several interesting bouts.

"Watty" Watson was a travelling partner of Downs for several months but on account of some event which transpired in Calgary last fall, there is no love lost between Watson and Downs. Watson played with Downs for 21 minutes at Fort Saskatchewan, at a minute, and Downs failed to throw him in the appointed time.

Pat McClinchy is the man who is going to meet Charlie Hobbrooke in Strathcona on the 9th in a ten round mill. He also has been up against Downs before, having stayed 12 minutes with him in Strathcona.

Charlie Suter who is well known locally, has never performed in public on the mat before but he is a husky man and has put in some hard practice.

The match tonight is called for 8.30 and there will be a couple of preliminary affairs previous to the main event. The match will undoubtedly draw a good house.

INSURANCE OF WHEAT

(Special to the Bulletin)
Winnipeg, Aug. 29.—Before the grain commission today John Fleming (see list) that insurance of wheat in elevators costs more since the elevator companies did that business than it did when the shippers did the insuring themselves. Fleming, to enter, is one of the ratepayers against the government control of elevators. David Horn, chief grain inspector, stated that the average cost of what was barely above the standard or minimum sample, instead of being half way between grades.

Despite the fact that over sixteen thousand men have already been distributed there is still a big demand for harvesters in many parts of the province.

Jack Downs Has a Contract This Evening to Save His Hundred Plunks

The personnel of the wrestling quartette which will meet Jack Downs tonight in the Tiltle rink and endeavor to get that $100 away from him, is out. Downs certainly has a contract ahead of him.

The men are Henry Blatchford, "Watty" Watson, Pat McClinchy and Charlie Suter.

Blatchford is already well known to the Edmonton Public and no one who has seen him wrestle will ever admit that he is easy. Last winter he gave Jack Curran the time of his life and been one of the prime actors in several interesting bouts.

From Frontier Town to Metropolis

(By Mae Harris Anson in Minneapolis Journal)

Edmonton, Aug. 1.—At the last reception at government house, nine women were guests that were imported directly from Paris. Nothing can express more forcibly than this the change that has come over this old Hudson's Bay Co. trading post, within the past three years. Three hundred and twenty-five miles north of the boundary seems so far north indeed, that most of us think it is a country wrapped in snow and ice, with Eskimo styles in favor the year round. That the town can furnish this number of women who know the charm of a Paris gown, and men of means enough to pay for their knowing, shows that after an existence of 111 years, and several attempts to make something of herself, Edmonton is at last fully awake and started on the highroad to metropolitan honors.

The province of Alberta contains some 281,000 square miles of territory, and is capable of producing annually more wheat than the present annual production of the United States. The richest, most fertile and most densely populated portion of that great area is the middle section, known as Central Alberta, extending from the Red Deer river, 100 miles south of Edmonton, to the Athabasca, about the same distance to the north. Edmonton is the unchallenged commercial, educational and manufacturing center of this great territory of about seventy thousand square miles. In addition, northern Alberta, extending from the Athabasca river to the 60th parallel, and from the 119th to the 126th meridians, containing 130,000 square miles largely fit for settlement, and which will in the near future, contain a very considerable population, looks to Edmonton as its metropolis.

"To the south, east, west, and north of Edmonton, is a great area of the blackest and richest land I ever saw." That is how it appeared to John A. Ewan, special staff correspondent of the Toronto Globe, after he had spent a season investigating the agricultural resources of western Canada. This is how it appears to thousands of experienced farmers who are flocking into the district from every part of the United States (except perhaps, from the far south), to whom such land looks absurdly cheap at the prices at which it can still be bought.

THE OLD "LAST HOUSE"
On the brow of the plateau overlooking the wide reaches of the Saskatchewan, a situation not unlike that from the point at Fort Snelling, stands the weather-beaten Hudson's Bay Co. fort, the old "Edmonton house," around which for more than 100 years centered all the life of the west country to the north, as well as all the social life of the vicinity. For decades Edmonton was called the "last house," the end of the trail, beyond which lay a trackless wilderness. Today the once busy post is hushed and silent, its stockade crumbling, its houses and roofs rapidly falling into decay. High on the crest of one of the hills, where, within the sacred space of three years, a city of brick and stone has sprung up like magic, the great Hudson's Bay Company's store is housed in an excellently modern business block. Instead of piles of furs, coarse cloth, firearms, cheap rum and whisky, and the paltry trinkets of the old-time Indian trade, there is a thoroughly up-to-date department store where one may buy the latest styles in evening frocks. Nothing is lacking from the much-desired long black silk gloves to a bottle of Pompadour.

A TOWN FULL OF CONTRASTS
The town is full of just such contrasts, where the old still hangs on, doggedly refusing to give place wholly to the new. On a slightly hill-side overlooking the river and facing the old Hudson's Bay Co. fort, is the home of Lieutenant-Governor Dulyea, both typical of the picturesque past and the glorious present, with its golden proportions of the future. The old trading post is low ceilings, its interior fishy and crude and primitive, while its smoke-grimed beams and walls are still mummy with the odor of pipes, stores of supplies, the pungent tang of spirits, and the clinging taint of cheap tobacco smoke.

The home of the lieutenant-governor is typically modern. It has steam heat, electric light and running water. Its scheme of interior decoration is the design of good taste in color and scheme, what Edmonton is, compared with what it once was, is shown by the fact that in every detail the decoration is the work of a local firm. In the finest residence district of Edmonton is a house which only unimpaired wealth could plan and build. Everything without and within speaks perfect taste, except for one thing—a tumble-down log hut containing but a single room, which stands conspicuously in the grounds. It marks the view from the house and is an eye-draw to the passerby, but nothing could draw the line more distinctly between the life during the ascendancy of Edmonton House and that of the city of today, where society in Paris dress enters about Government House. For showmen of the log hut and the stately mansion was one of the very first settlers and began his married life in the little old hut. Today, in the enjoyment of the great wealth that has come to him with the opening of the last west," he cherishes the rude cabin as a reminder of his humble beginning. A COSMOPOLITAN AIR ALREADY Social life in Edmonton is quite different in tone from that of any American city of its size, and has to be seen if the difference is to be appreciated. When the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta were created from the four territories of Assiniboia, Saskatchewan, Alberta and Athabasca, not quite a year ago, Edmonton became the capital of Alberta, and entitled to a government house.

There is nothing in American public life that corresponds exactly with the social influence wielded by the lieutenant-governor and his family throughout Canada. The atmosphere of his home is not so formal as that of the White House, but is considerably more so than the official residence of the governor of a state. Moreover, the atmosphere differs greatly in the various provinces. In Toronto it is ultra English; in Winnipeg it is rawer English, while in Edmonton it is like the home of a cultured American family of wealth, minus the formal dress for social recognition, and conducted with dignity, and a reasonable amount of ceremony.

Within three years Edmonton has grown from a village of 2,000 to a city of 12,000 inhabitants; enormous fortunes have been made in consequence of the boom, and between this wealth and the official tone which necessarily colors society in the capital of any British dependency, there is a cosmopolitan air about Edmonton wholly unexpected and decidedly surprising in a town that is the most northern station of any of the transcontinental railway routes.

Aside from the official functions of government house, society is very gay in Edmonton. There are dinners and dances, teas and receptions, formal and informal. "At home" days are more strictly observed than in the United States, and "the little something to eat" and a cup of tea, are as much a part of every afternoon as the hours themselves. Then there are all kinds of outdoor recreation, of which those of English blood are so fond; there are glorious drives for miles along the famous old trails, which for so long echoed only the creaking and rumbling of the clumsy, picturesque old Red River carts; there are clubs, for both men and women; there is a fine circulating library, a large magnificent contingent, and way up here to the 54th parallel there is a café where banquets are served of which Delmonico himself would not be ashamed, either as to menu or service.

"The only thing we lack," said a well-known society woman, "are first-class theatres, lectures and music. Oh, of course we have plays and music, but all of a certain kind, and rarely what the best people like to patronize. We may seem to have a grand theatre, but our people have either travelled extensively or at least read widely, and they know the best there is in plays and players, music and musicians. Consequently, they cannot be satisfied with anything but the best."

IN THE OLD DAYS
Decidedly a different standard from the days of Edmonton House, when clerks, bourgeois, voyageurs and soldiers met in carousal to celebrate the return of the canoes with the harvest of pelts. Instead of the soft music of the stringed orchestra, the murmur of voices in refined conversation, the tap of silver feet, and the swish of silken gowns, there were the hoarse voices of the woodmen raised in drink-roughened shouts to the French and Canadian songs of the day, the pounding of moccasined feet upon the floor, and as the finishing touch, when for once the official lines were dropped, the singing of a popular boating song, to the rhythm of poles, tongs, shovels,—anything that could be made to do duty as a pseudo-car.

THE DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE
Edmonton is also possessed of a flourishing chapter of the Daughters of the Empire. This is a patriotic order similar to the D. A. B., and, strangely enough, is connected with the American revolution, for while the D. A. B. have to be descendants of fighters in the revolution, an aspirant to recognition as a Daughter of the Empire, must be the descendant of a revolutionary Tory so loyal to his king and country that he would not even live under the flag that repudiated both, and sacrificing everything, went across the line and settled in Canada. To be of the blood of one of these "United Empire Loyalists" is to be the ward of the real heirs of courage and honor.

The social contrasts in Edmonton have a parallel in the business world. Truth to tell, Edmonton itself is surprised at its progress. Three years ago it wanted to be in the wheat belt, and acknowledged openly that it hoped to be, but it hardly dared bank upon that hope becoming a reality. Today, mills and elevators, crowded in their greatest capacity, prove that the wheat belt has widened and not only touched Edmonton on the south, but promises to make it the centre of a great winter wheat growing section.

MORE SHEEP SHOULD BE KEPT ON WESTERN FARMS (Nor-West Farmer)

The magnificent display of sheep of all the principal breeds at the leading exhibitions in Canada, amply demonstrate that we have a country admirably adapted to the production of this class of stock in the highest degree of perfection, and that we have shepherds, not a few who are well qualified by training and experience to bring them out in the pink of condition, and in robust health and vigor. The splendid record made by our flockmasters in winning honors at the great international exhibitions in which they have competed, at Chicago and elsewhere, with Canadian-bred and fitted sheep in their own hands and those of others to whom they had sold, furnished abundant evidence of the high-class character of our sheep, the undoubted skill of our shepherds, and the suitability of our soil, our climate, and our stock foods, for the growth and development of sheep and the production of mutton and wool off the best quality.

In view of these facts it is unaccountable that so few sheep, comparatively are found on Canadian farms, that by a very large proportion of our farmers they are entirely neglected, and that the aggregate number of sheep in the Dominion has been steadily decreasing for the last fifteen years. We are confident this fact is not due to any general disability affecting the industry. We believe it is absolutely safe to say that in no other country are sheep liable to so few diseases or disadvantages of any kind. The climate is as near an ideal one for the successful raising of this class of stock as can be found anywhere in the world. All the principal mutton breeds do well with us. There is no class of farm stock the raising and care of which requires so little labor or expense as this—unfortunate and unprofitable money-maker. Sheep will live in summer largely upon pickings in the lanes and by-places in the farm, and in the fall prove most useful and make good gains on the stubble and will eat many of the weeds that infest the pastures, thus helping to clean the farm and keep it clean. No stock is so little affected by protracted drouths; they prefer a short nibble and thrive better in a dry season than in a wet one when feed is overfluous. The fleece of wool—a volunteer crop, which never fails—which no other farm stock yields, and which is perennial during the life of the animal, amply pays for its winter keep even when liberally fed, and anywhere from fifty to a hundred per cent of an annual increase from the ewes may be reasonably expected, and with a little care and good management, may be realized. We doubt if any other investment in farming will pay as liberal dividends as those semi-animal declared by a well-bred and well-cared for flock of sheep. There is generally a good steady demand for mutton sheep or lambs in the great markets at all seasons of the year, at good paying prices, considering the cost of production while the demand for breeding stock for improved and replenishing the flocks on the farms and on the range territories of Canada and the United States is such as to make it decidedly profitable to cater to that trade, and Canadian farmers are particularly well situated for taking advantage of the increasing trade in this line which is bound to come our way. Many United States stockmen look to Canada for rams for the improvement of their flocks, knowing from experience that sheep bred and raised in our climatic conditions possess the requisite stamina and quality to improve the stock they are brought into contact with, and they will continue to come here for fresh blood. The Americans are fast becoming a mutton-eating people, and it is hard to understand why the same cannot be said of our own people, for here is certainly no more wholesome meat that can be placed upon our tables. Lamb is rapidly growing in favor as an article of diet and brings highly remunerative prices, considering the cost of production, and gives quick returns to the producer; and we may look for a steady increase in this trade, in sympathy with the prevailing preference for young meat in all lines.

While it is true that the quality of best breeding flock has been well maintained, thanks to the skill and pique of the breeders of purebred flocks, who have noble held on through times of depression without adventitious aid from outside resources while kindred industries have been boomed by Government agencies and aided by special favors at the public expense, yet it is also true as we have intimated, that sheep are neglected by a very large proportion of our farmers, we believe to their own direct loss. There are few farms in the Dominion on which a small flock could not profitably be maintained. The expense of starting a flock on a small scale is very moderate and may soon be repaid by the sale of surplus stock, while by retaining the best of the young females, and purchasing at intervals of two years a new ram, which may often be sold at the end of his service for nearly, if not quite the original cost, a flock can in a very few years, be built up and maintained, to the profit and satisfaction of the owner. We know many farmers who find their little flock of good grade sheep, the most profitable asset on their farms; and, from our extended experience and observation, we feel safe in counselling the keeping of more sheep by the farmers of Canada, believing, as we do, that this is a field in which our people can continue to excel. The best season in all the year to buy sheep for a foundation stock or to replenish is in the early autumn, when the lambs have been weaned, and the ewes are generally in good condition. If deferred to a later period, breeders will, as a rule, have sold what he intended to dispose of, and have reduced their flock to the number they intend to keep through the winter, and will then only sell for tempting prices, if they consent to sell at all. Those who buy early generally get the best selections.

COURT OF REVISION.

The court of revision held its first session at the city hall on Wednesday evening to hear the appeals against the assessment and did not rise until 12.15. Almost all the appeals considered were in the Hudson's Bay subdivision and most of the applications for reduction were an account of local conditions. In a few instances assessments were reduced but no material change in the assessment roll was made. The court met again yesterday afternoon. The appeals were taken up in the order in which they occur on the roll.

THE MIXER MIXES

The mixer mixes! The little spark sparks in the left lung; the flip-flop flip-flops in the doo-fluter; the calumny alides through the dingus-wopper and she coughs; the little engine coughs along as cheerful as a cigarette fiend on a sunny Sunday in summer.

She laughs; the little machine laughs with a growl like a ghoul as she gobbles great gulps of ground granite and cement. The fragrant zephyrs along the smiling banks of Rat Creek are surcharged with the laughter of the machine.

And Alderman Bellamy smiles too. His reputation is rescued from the hopper of despair. Alderman Calhoun will have to retire to the rear and take a recumbent position.

In other words the contractors got the wheels turning on the much discussed cement mixer and today it is turning out concrete ready for casting the big pipe for the main trunk sewer.

THE C. P. R. LAND GRANT

New York, Aug. 30.—There is little or no probability that the directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. will organize a new holding company to take over valuable lands which are now held under grant from the Canadian Government. It is true that the company's land grant bonds have been cancelled and that it has in the treasury $18,000,000 of defunct payment contracts which bear six per cent interest. A Wall street man who has looked into the matter estimates that the unsold agricultural lands of the Canadian Pacific have an aggregate market value of $180,000,000. In addition, the company hold a sundry interest in a large amount of valuable mineral and timber land, particularly in British Columbia. It was learned today that the directors have under consideration for some time a plan for distributing to stock holders profits received from sales of lands. One of the schemes which has been thought of is the issuing of land scrip of the same aggregate amount as the capital stock of the company. Another matter which is understood to be under consideration is a clause in the charter of the C. P. R. company, which apparently is not generally known, and which provides that after the earnings of the company amount to ten per cent, the Canadian Government shall have authority to tax the corporation.

It is understood that this apparently vague term will be taken to the highest courts of Canada, and for that purpose a friendly suit against the company will be begun. Eminent counsel in Canada, New York and London will be engaged. According to the present arrangements the C. P. R. will continue to give its stockholders extra dividends in the shape of privileges to subscribe for additional stock from time to time for the purpose of building extensions that will be necessary. Such a policy would provide for the distribution of at least a part of the profits of land sales inasmuch as returns from that source go into the central treasury.
